

The Research Project and The Research Team

The project is a joint venture between the following:

The National Small-bore Rifle Association, Lord Roberts Centre, Bisley Camp, Woking.

The School of Sports Science in the Faculty of Life and Health Sciences, University of Ulster, Northern Ireland.

The Alzheimer's Research Unit, Edith Cowan University, Joondalup, Perth Western Australia

The two main researchers are:

Jean Coleman, BSc (Hons. Psychology), MSc (Research Psychol.), MSc Psychotherapy, CPsychol., AFBPS, FRSM,.

Jean is a retired consultant clinical psychologist who has been associated with target shooting for over 30 years

Ken Clark, BSc (Hons. Psychology), CPsychol., MBPS.

Principal Clinical Psychologist (retired).

Their supervisors and mentors are:

Professor Ralph Martins, AO, KStJ, BSc (Hons), PhD, FRSM, CitWA, MAICD, Western Australian of the Year (2010), Foundation Chair in Ageing and Alzheimer's, Edith Cowan University, Joondalup, Perth Western Australia

Dr. Hamid Sohrabi PhD., MSc., BSc.,

Post Doctorate Research Fellow in Clinical Neuroscience at Edith Cowan University, Joondalup, Perth Western Australia

Professor Tom Trinick OBE, BSc (Hons), MB BCh BAO, FRCP, FRCPE, FRCPI, FRCPath, EurClinChem, MD.

Consultant in General Medicine and Chemical Pathology, Ulster Hospital, Dundonald, Belfast BT6 1RH

Associate professor, The School of Sports Science in the Faculty of Life and Health Sciences, University of Ulster, Northern Ireland.

Statistical analysis will be carried out by Dr. Sohrabi.

Ethical concerns will be covered by Prof. Trinick.